VOL. XXIII — NO. 9

Treasure Van at Mac

Treasure Van is a display-sale of international handicraft from 14 countries around the world and is undertaken by World University Service of Canada. Profits from this sale help finance the International Program of Action, administered by the WUS Secretariat in Geneva.

World University Service, an international university organization, has no specific membership and is open to all students of the world, regardless of race, religion, or politics. Its three-point plan of action is: material aid to students and faculty; international education through seminars; and a program of research and conferences on problems of advanced education. It attempts to help students in under-developed countries in such projects as schooling, lodging, and health. The profits from the Treasure Van are used to provide urgently needed health centres, school materials and school equipment.

Just reflect that 80% of the students of South East Asia are in poor health due to malnutrition, TB, malaria, and dysentery, and that in Japan alone, 20,000 students are TB suspects and an additional 5,000 require immediate hospitalization. The need for assistance is apparent. Only 5% of India's 70,000 students live in residences. Forty percent of Pakistan's 65,000 university students will not complete their studies because of inadequate financial assistance.

Treasure Van is your chance to help, and also your chance to purchase articles as gifts for Christmas presents which have a distinctly different appeal. They are relatively inexpensive and you will be aiding a very worthy cause.

Treasure Van will be on the Mac campus next Wednesday in the Foyer from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. See you there.

Five Minutes

TEACHERS III has presented an enjoyable play. Unfortunately, the curtain work was not fast enough for the quickly-moving plot. The sets were very good, ably suggesting a comfortable apartment. Except for the night scene, the lighting was well done. Costumes and make-up were appropriate, and the programmes were effective.

On a whole, the acting was fair, tending to bog down at spots of high action. The director should have paid more attention to these difficult passages. None of the actors maintained sufficient voice projection and the diction was poor in some places.

Jim Darrick did an admirable fast change between the character of Jasper Dane and Jackson. Malcolm Scouter was mediocre in his role as Norman Stone. The two female parts, played by Sharon Chicoyne and Lyn McElroy, were a trifle stilted as their time on stage increased. Unhappily, Dave Swannack, turned his back to the audience when he was speaking.

The overall impression was effective and a fairly good attempt was made.

The Class III Teachers would like to apologize to Dave Swannack, who played the policeman in "Five Minutes". His name was accidentally omitted from the programme. We're sorry, Dave.

At a Chamber of Commerce Banquet, a school teacher was called upon to respond to the "Long Live our Teachers!" Her response in full was, "On What?"

The right way to kill time is to work it to death.

The world is full of willing people, some willing to work, and the rest willing to let them.

Dr. J. W. Boyes to Speak on Genetics

The Macdonald College Branch of the Agricultural Institute of Canada has invited Dr. J. W. Boyes to speak on his impressions of genetic research in the U.S.S.R. Dr. Boyes was the Secretary General of the tenth International Congress of Genetics which was held at McGill in August, 1958. He was invited then by the visiting Russian delegates to lecture on Western advancements in genetics at the University of Moscow and other research stations in Russia. He visited Russia in May, 1960, and was there for three months. His talk will deal mainly with Russian advances (or otherwise) in genetics and should be of considerable interest to all students in Agriculture. Dr. Boyes is Chairman of the Genetics Department, Faculty of Arts and Science, McGill University. The meeting is slated for Monday, Dec. 5th, at 8:30 p.m., in the amphitheatre of the Biology Building.

Dr. J. S. Bubar, Secretary of the Branch, informs the "Fault-He Times" that membership in the A.I.C. is still open to all third and fourth year students in the Faculty of Agriculture. Will those students who have not yet made formal application please see him? Membership is free; take advantage of the many offers that the A.I.C. presents to you!

Soph Teachers Class Party

Support Community Chest and buy a ticket to the party. Tickets cost $.25, and can be purchased from Pete Findlay, Bev Mooney, Andy Talmanis, Marion Edmonds, Rick Black, Claire Connor, and Dawn Graham. All proceeds will go to Community Chest. We hope to donate about $30 to this cause. Everyone buying a ticket will be welcome. We only hope that in this way, we may be able to limit the numbers so that Joe doesn't worry about us joining the act downstairs with a bang. This will take place Thursday, December first, in the Bellevue Room, with the fun beginning at 8:00. See you all there. There is a limited number of tickets being sold, so get yours now while they last.

S.P.B.G.

Local No. 54321½, (Macdonald College Branch) of the S.P.B.G., (the Society for the Promotion of Beard Growing) in sponsoring a beard growing contest in conjunction with Winter Carnival this year. All application for entry in this contest should be submitted to Joe Ruet, Brittain Hall, by Sunday night if possible, although late entries will receive sympathetic consideration of the Board of Director. Prerequisites for entry are few and anyone complying with the following rules may enter.

1. All applications should be male (exception to this rule can be arranged on request).

2. "Boys" are definitely excluded from entry.

3. Applicants must shave Sunday Nov. 27, after which all know may be employed to promote rapid and luxuriant growth.

4. The contest will be judged during Winter Carnival; the Judges' decision will be final; and no correspondence disputing their decision will be entered into.

5. Any type of beard will be considered suitable but mustaches alone will be regarded as insufficient evidence of the wearer's ability.

6. Withdrawals will be permitted although frowned upon as indicative of a lack of intestinal fortitude on the part of the person withdrawing.

Community Chest

Students! It is your duty to support Community Chest. This Students' Council Organization is your "Red Feather". Through the Community Chest you are helping people in less fortunate circumstances. Certainly, college students are among the most fortunate citizens in this world of turmoil, strife, hunger and unemployment.

Community Chest week is coming up... the 3rd week of January... but in the meantime Community Chest is trying to help some folks who need help by selling Christmas Cards. Do your part! Buy MACDONALD COLLEGE CHRISTMAS CARDS! They are on sale in the bookstore and in the Foyer.

DION VS YAFFE

This coming Monday morning shall see an "atom-smashing" duel on the stage of our own Assembly Hall. The Institute of Education has invited Dr. H. George Dion, Dean of the Faculty of Agriculture, and Dr. Leo Yaffe of McGill University to debate on the topic of "The Implications of Nuclear Testing."

Dr. Dion is a staunch advocate of nuclear disarmament. Our Dean has given a great deal, of his moral support to the CUCND on campus. On numerous occasions he has spoken freely on the crimes of nuclear testing.

Dr. Yaffe, who holds the Sir William Macdonald Chair of Physics at McGill, is a man of international repute who is deeply involved in the field of radiochemistry. He is known to hold equally strong, if opposite, views to our Dean on the subject of nuclear testing.

To add a little spice to the discussion a wellknown "celebrity" has been asked to chair the discussion. Under his watchful eye our two distinguished debaters will thread their way through the turmoil of "The Implications of Nuclear Testing." Harry Needham, as chairman of this debate, will need your support.

We know that with the above information that all of you are eager to hear when and where the "countdown" will be. So Aggies, Home Ecs., Teachers, and Staff — we expect to see you in the Assembly Hall at 8:30 a.m.! A record turn out is expected so be there early and get a choice seat for the FIREWORKS.

Greatest Harrier Yet

The annual Harrier Cross-country race will be held to-morrow at 11:45. Each class may enter as many participants as they want, with the first four finishers in each class scoring. Dave Popkin hopes to make it the biggest Harrier yet. Roht and Munkit-trick were tops last year, but many others hope for an upset to-morrow. The start and finish will be at the Oval, with 2½ miles in between. A map of the route is posted in the Coffee Shop. Competitors are requested to report at 11:30 to have the route and the rules explained. If necessary, the finishers will be carried to the nearest TV set at Grey Cup time. We hope to see a large crowd of spectators to cheer their classmates on at the finish.

Re: Fault-He Times Literary Competition

The Dec. 2 edition of the Fault-He Times will be carrying a four page literary supplement in which the winning entries will be published. Contestants are reminded of the closing date for submission of entries, which is NOON, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1960. All entries should be typed double-spaced on one side of the paper only and should be marked Fault-He Competition. Entrants should not put their names on their entries; name, class and year should be written on a separate sheet of paper which should be firmly attached to the entries. Any submissions after the noon hour will not be eligible for prizes. Please refer the F-Y Times issue of November 18, 1960, for full details.

EDITORIALS.....COMMENTS

Video Violence

In the opinion of this writer, the showing of crime or brutality to children through the medium of movies or television constitutes an unpardonable offense.

Adults are free to choose their own entertainment but the helpless budding thought of youth is at our mercy!

Whether these unheathy pictures reach them by way of movies or television the impression made contributes greatly to the warped outlook resulting in juvenile delinquents. First, fear and its resulting effects; second, a growing habit of taking the "horror" for granted and a dulling of the capacity to discern right from wrong; third, a tendency to bring into childrens games, or still worse into daily life, the scenes and activities witnessed. It is a characteristic of childhood to imitate. Shall we, as future parents, just sit down and "cry over spilt milk"? No. We can do our part by presenting children with the ability to judge for themselves.

As Christians dare we ignore the Master's words, Whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea." (Matt, 18:6)

The "little ones" are the future citizens of the world. No wise farmer would cultivate his field for spring planting and then plant a poisonous seed in hopes of reaping a profitable crop! Let us, therefore, watch the seeds of our sowing.

Human Attitudes

Dear Sir,

It seems to me that the author of your editorial of Nov. 11th, titled "Human Attitudes," is millennia ahead of his time. By suggesting a philosophical approach to one of the issues that threatens the very existence of human society, he has transcended the "dog-eat-dog" attitude which typified the ancestors of Homo Sapiens, and from which state so called "civilized man," with all his technological and social devices has seemingly progressed but little.

It is little wonder that Miss Weisbord (Miss Reality), Nov. 15th, in the true spirit of this kill-or-be-killed society, was so quick to pounce on "Human Attitudes"; like a leopard on his humble prey.

With due respect for Miss Weisbord's strong and grievous feelings concerning the atrocities committed against members of her ethnic group, I, nevertheless, submit that it is a desecration to associate such sublime sentiments as are the theme of "Human Attitudes," with the base and morbid aspirations of such savage factions of the HUMAN RACE as the Klu Klux Klan, or the Nazis who organized the Ghettos.

We, human beings, have to make a choice between one of two states of existence. We shall either wage constant and uncompromising war against one another in the name of nation, race, or ideology with ultimate mutual extinction; or we shall by a voluntary effort resolve our differences—"likes and dislikes"—for our mutual benefit and mutual survival.

I hope we can transcend the "beast," use our intelligence, and choose the latter course. If not, we shall fight... and die!

Thank you,
Michael O. GARRAWAY.

On Campus — Way Off...

O judgement! Thou art open to slander by brutish beasts,
And men have lost their reason. Bear with me;
My heart is in sympathy with you all —
It lies within the pit of conflict Harry dug —
That which was made to ease his own unrest,
And I must pause till it comes back to me.
But then — big frogs have little frogs upon their backs to bite them,
And little frogs have lesser frogs — and so ad infinitum!

Thanks

Dear Sir,

I would like to express my thanks for the interest shown by the column "On Campus" in your November 18th edition of "The Failt-Ye Times", for reporting the results of the S. T. S. referendum vote. In reference to the statement that certain groups in the S. T. S. did not vote; it should be remembered that the vote was by secret ballot, and therefore statistical justification of this statement would be virtually impossible.

Sincerely,

Ted Wall,
Pres. of S.T.S.

Apology

Dear Miss Stewart:

I wish to express my most profound regrets as regards the "On Campus" column in the Friday, Nov. 18th number of the "Failt-Ye Times." Little did I know, when composing the column, that my humble words would be regarded as caustically and as seriously as indeed they were. In future, I shall endeavour to refrain from being so direct in matters concerning yourself and other individual staff members. Once again, my deepest apologies.

Yours very truly,
Harold G. NEEDHAM,
News Editor,
"Failt-Ye Times."

Contented!

Dear Miss Stewart:

You have been the victim of a lot of written and verbal complaining this season.

For a change, we have a bouquet instead of a beef.

Having gone to boarding schools where we were served numerous indigestible dishes at least twice a week (eg. dried-out boiled cabbage, cold burnt sausages, etc.) we know the advantages of variety. You have endeavoured to give us variety!

Secondly, our food has improved over last year. We are certain that many of the 'old' students have rather unpleasant memories of a certain cheese concoction. Haven't seen or heard of it since — and are we ever glad!

Thirdly, our food is usually warm, if not hot, and that is more than can be said for some high class restaurants.

The bouquet is not big, and perhaps there is room for improvement, but don't let anyone tell you that everything is terrible. In fact, the meals recently have been darn good. The menu looks promising and we hope that the present trend will continue.

OOPS!!

Dear Sir:

I have read with interest the letter, written by your correspondent, Mr. Hugh W. Montgomery, published in this week's "Failt-Ye Times," concerning his interpretation of the efficiency of the employees of the Buildings and Grounds Department.

The above Department is always open to, and welcomes, constructive criticism, but, I feel, before your correspondents write letters to your paper, they should be absolutely certain that they have the correct information on hand.

The raking up and cleaning of leaves on the Campus is NOT carried out by the Department of Buildings and Grounds at all. This duty is performed by another Department.

Yours very truly,
Macdonald College

George T. G. WRIGHT,
Deputy Superintendent,
Buildings and Grounds.

Consideration

I'm annoyed... and so are a lot of other people who have put time, money, effort and imagination into selling some article by means of a poster.

Recently there has been a rash of inconsiderate fools who insist on marking up other peoples work. I refer to the marking, erasing, or general defacing of posters and advertisements around the college campus.

Each poster that goes up takes time, imagination and effort — plus money. Each poster is made for a purpose — to sell an idea, an article, or as an invitation. It is not made as a scratch pad for the itchy-fingered artist or the unthinking scribbler.

It must be brought to the attention of all students that it is as much a crime to deface a poster as it is to remove it. Consequently it carries the same monetary fine, namely $5.00.

The ignoramus that mars another individual's effort deserves a fine! Let's hope that the next one gets caught.

Beverley Mooney

How long was your last cook with you?

She was never with us; she was against us from the start.

DRINKS

To whom it may concern:

It has come to my attention through my own personal experience and through hearing other disgruntled clients that the two soft drink machines in the Coffee Shop are not fulfilling the job for which they were put there. If any of the compartments of either machine are empty, they are filled with liquid from another compartment. However, if you are unlucky enough to turn to a compartment that has not been refilled, nine times out of ten your money is not refunded.

One might ask why you would put money in for a drink that is not there. The answer to that is that the "Empty" sign so kindly provided does not register, so you lose your money unwittingly.

If we are to have soft drink machines, let us have them. But save us from the money grabbers which are disguised as soft drink machines that stand in the Coffee Shop now.

Yours truly,

Irene Hartburn

Editor's Note:—After consulting the President of the Recreation Center, it has been confirmed that any money lost in the machines will gladly be refunded at the counter.

MUSIC

Dear Sir:

Will you, please, insert the following notice in this week's edition of the "Failt-Ye Times":

On Thursday evening, Dec. 1st, the Music Appreciation Club will present a lecture-demonstration-concert by Professor C. F. Hanson entitled "Exploring the Organ." Professor Hanson will demonstrate the workings of the organ and will illustrate his talk with a recital of organ music from various periods in musical history. The concert will be followed by Professor Hanson conducting small groups of the audience into the organ chamber, where he will further demonstrate the intricacies of this instrument. The meeting will take place in the Main Assembly Hall, at 7:30 p.m., and everyone is invited to attend.

Thank you,

Michael CAYEN,
Chairman,
Music Appreciation Club.

On Campus to what purpose?

by HARRY NEEDHAM

In this number I wish to clear up any misconceptions that anyone may have as regards this column be means of a statement of purpose and a resolution. My column is designed to give the opinion of one person, myself, and is in no way directed against any person or persons for the sake of pure spite or ridicule. I regard it more as a looking-glass by which people on campus can view the little faults and follies of themselves and others. In this, I am providing the same sort of service that Socrates and Pope gave to their respective eras. Please don't think that I am comparing myself to these two great men because I'm not. I am merely using the tools that they used, namely the ability to prod and irritate to a better end through the use of the printed word. If I do not write such a column, someone else would, possibly not as forcefully but just as effectively. I am a newspaperman and an individual and as such am one of the few who have the courage to make our ideas known. Possibly, if more of us did express our opinions in a constructive manner, the world might be a better place. The material that I use every week, other than that which is my own, is gleaned from the most reputable sources available. Unfortunately, even these worthies are sometimes biased so on occasion it is difficult even impossible to get a clear picture of the actual situation. In this, I trust that you will bear with me in a task that is sometimes very trying to perform, as it is done with the best of intentions.

Because of the furor that my last article raised, I feel obliged to change the fundamental ideas of the column somewhat. In future, we shall try to offer more in the way of constructive criticism, rather than a jaundiced commentary on the whole business. With this end in mind, I leave myself open to ideas of any nature. Have you any to offer?

We are given to understand that the IG group is somewhat perturbed about last week's column. Wordy evidence of same may be found elsewhere in this number. I guess that vile poetry is better than none at all but that's a debatable point. As regards the Elementary and Frosh groups, our info was from the best source available. We would like to take a poll, advisory group by advisory group, to find out exactly what percentage of each class voted. We are willing to bet that we wouldn't be far wrong.

Appears that we weren't the only ones who got on somebody's nerves. That article that was in last week's paper may not have been accurate as regards one isolated incident but the general tone of B & G work is along the same lines. Even if the work was not being done by B & G, why should we be forced to see our money being spent on a pas-sal of workmen whose chief occupation seems to be sitting on

Glee Club

After various minor tragedies, the Glee Club has finally gotten off to a flying start.

We have an average attendance of about 80 people who are very keen participants. We hope to have a concert sometime in late January or early February.

Our practices are held on Tuesday evening at 8:00 p.m. sharp, and new members are always welcome!

At Present, our programme consists of a medley from Oklahoma, and various other pieces of modern music.

The elections for the club have been decided upon and our president is Susan Hanna, Laird Hall. Any questions concerning the Glee Club can be directed to her.

Sheila Stanley,
Director.

their You-know-whats. Why can't we keep a closer check on the people who work for the college. Are we paying for efficient service or for a private relief scheme?

Another item that has come to our desk is the problem of the skating rink. Almost every time that it's open, it's swamped with kids from the village who have no passes and who certainly have not been invited in (that is), unless the doorman's unlimited entry policy rates the same as a regular invitation.

Maybe this is the time for the formation of a college police force that everyone has been gassing about, but that nobody wants to take a definite stand on. How can we improve matters? I think it's asking a little too much for students to take over duties that should normally be assigned to hired personnel, but what else can we do? Does anyone have any ideas on this score? Someone could certainly use them.

Another thing that has been bothering us the Men's House Committee problem. Despite the earnest endeavours of the president and a few other members, relatively little is being accomplished to preserve the peace. And a very junior House Committee member was seen running around, dumping beds, with the rest of the gang. This sort of thing has to stop. It's past the fun stage when a gang of misdirected juvenile delinquents take all the clean clothes out of the drawers of a member's room and empty ashtrays and waste baskets over them, carefully grinding the results in with their feet. I think it's time that we had a little re-organization. There should be more members and certain ones should be detailed to stay in residence during social affairs as that is the time that all the damage is done. Another thing that might be improved is the spacing of House Committee members around the residence. The final and most drastic thing that we would advocate is the replacement of some of the people that are already members. They just aren't doing their jobs. Who has a master plan for this most unwieldy problem?

For the first time in a long while, we have some roses (thornless) to hand out. The first goes to the STS who, for the first time in several years, have a workable constitution which is already in use. This year promises to be a very good one. We understand that there is a series of events coming up through the college year designed to enrich the student and provide some much-needed insight into other people's.

Our second little clump goes to the staff of the dining hall for a week of meals that are a striking contrast to some that we have seen. And chicken to boot!

We've tried to give you a chance to give us some ideas out a number of things. Whether you can take advantage of this service remains to be seen. If we get some positive response, we'll keep it up. Otherwise, it's re go.

OFF CAMPUS - WAY OFF

by MARILYN SMITH

Friends, Clan Macdonald, countrymen, lend me your ears; I come to praise Harry, and not to criticize him.

The evil that men do — the serving of displeasing dishes in the dining-hall, the installation of machines in the Coffee Shop which dispense "abominable flavours", "the last and least" reproaches of one Mr. B., and the "little frogs in a large puddle" added to the neglectfulness and lack of maturity of the Freshmen — the evil lives after them.

The good is oft interred with their bones; So let it be with these complaints. The noble Harry Hath told you of his petty conflicts; If they were valid, they were grievous wrongs To make as excellent a fellow suffer so — And grievously shall these causers of the conflict answer for it.

Here, under leave of Harry and his clique, — For Harry is an honourable man; So are they all, all honourable men, — Come I to speak for the Freshmen and the Post Grads. They are my friends, faithful and just to me; But Harry says they are little frogs in a big puddle acting like big frogs in a little puddle, And Harry is an honourable man.

The Freshmen have brought much good spirit to Macdonald, But this spirit is there for us to develop — to set an example: Does this in them seem not ambitious? When asked for volunteers, they have volunteered; Lack of ambition should be made of weaker stuff: Yet Harry says they are little frogs; And Harry is an honourable man. You all did see that at one vote held annum past, Nearly thrice were the College's ballets cast Because of a short quorum. Was this ambition? Yet Harry says they are not ambitious; And, sure, he is an honourable man. I speak not to disprove what Harry spoke. But here I am to speak what I do know. You all had class spirit once, not without cause: What cause witholds you then to claim your rights? Is it, perchance, that we have not been fair, Or have not stressed importance of ambition In vote as well as other things? The fault may be our own.

HOCKEY

On the hockey scene, the Mac Varsity team played the first of several exhibition games prior to the opening of their schedule. They were bounced 8-2 by a strong Lachine Maroon team of the Metropolitan Hockey League. Many of the boys have just exchanged their cleats for skates, so not too much could be expected this early. Doug "Sparks" Carr scored once and set up the other, playing a standout game. The defensive corps will be stronger when Leon Abbott and Don Nickless round into shape. Captain Don Harris, with his determined spirit, will undoubtedly play a big part in the year's successes. Let's really move this year, fellows. We're all pulling for you.

BASKETBALL

Basketball is in full swing. Coach Robertson is drilling his enthusiastic squad for the first league game against C.M.R. this Friday at St. John. At first look, the team has the potential to make a run for the championship. Pepper, Armstrong and Thomas, major letter winners last year, are back. Thomas, after helping Rosemount to the Junior Canadian Football Championship, has started practice this week and is looking sharp. Newcomers Bill Mitchell and Art Gauley are working the centre spot. Art Cross, Jack Campbell, Jerry Taylor, Gerry Kelly and Thomas are fighting for the forward positions. Armstrong, Cuttall, and Knox and captain Pepper are in the backcourt.

SWIMMING

Varsity swimming is back in the lime-light. If work wins, then we can look forward to a successful swimming season. Coach Widdop has set up gruelling practice sessions for his boys. He has the horses this year to do the job. Bright spots are in the breaststroke, butterfly, and free-style events. Pentti Luomala is alone with his speciality, the breaststroke, while Bob Jack is fast in both the butterfly and free-style events. "Moose" Guttman is handling the long-distance events. Dick Cuttall and Chadot also possess the ability to compete with these boys and will add great depth to the squad. Their first trial will be this Friday against Loyola College and they go at it again on December 3rd against the University of Montreal.

SWIMMING

Beginner's swimming classes are now in progress. If you want to learn to swim, then here is your opportunity. Those who have come out so far have really enjoyed themselves, and, contrary to their expectations, are actually learning to stay afloat.

Our Synchronized Swim Team has been selected. The members are as follows: Kathy Boyne, Maureen Atwood, Joan Chaloner, Claire Conner, Glee Willows, Nette Faivre, Stasia Parsons, Alice Nasmith, Marg. Jacques, Cathy Harden, Joan Hollis, Sherry Hopkins. These girls will be representing our college in the McGill Water Show on Dec. 2, and 3. Everyone is invited to go into McGill to see the Show. Barb. Fraser is the teacher for our swimming team.

An enthusiastic group of girls met for the first hockey practice of the season November 17. From these practices, Miss Nichol (coach), is able to select the Intercollegiate team. As you can see it is very important to attend as many practices as possible. Besides that it is loads of fun!

For those who are not sure what is in store, the following are some of the things we do —

Stopping and starting quickly.

Puck carrying,

Puck passing

Position playing - i.e. — Right-wing, Forward, etc.

Come on girls let's really get down to brass tacks and put the most into our practices. From the write-up in the STAR a few weeks ago McGill girls have been conditioning ONE MONTH more than we have. Don't forget the Mac Lassies are out to win!

FIGURE SKATING

Figure skating season is here again, much to the delight of the male members of our "Clan". Although the season commenced two weeks ago, apparently there is still room for more enthusiasts. The Winter Carnival is THE big event in our calendar and all those who are interested in participating in the figure skating exhibition should come to the rink every Wednesday and Thursday night from six o'clock to seven o'clock. It is not necessary that you skate as well as Sonia Henie because basic methods will be taught to you. The only requirement is enthusiasm. (The boys appreciate a good figure too!)

VOLLEYBALL TEAM

The girl's Intercollegiate Volleyball Team has been almost finalized this past week. Mrs. Godfrey is the coach and let's all come out to cheer our girls on to victory when they play an "at home" game. The dates when games with other teams will be played will be posted in the foyer, so keep your eyes open — if you want to see some interesting games, that is.

ARCHERY TEAM

Beginner's are still welcome to come to the Beginner's Archery classes on Friday afternoon, N.B. If you have had any experience at all come out to the Archery Team practices and you will be on the team. Girls, YOU are needed as we can't have a team without you. Intercollegiate Meets are scheduled, so, come one, come all to the team practices.

INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Come on girls. The interclass tournament is really in progress. Check the W.A.A. notice board in Stewart Hall to see when your team plays next. These games are worth coming out to see and sometimes we could stand a little cheering from the side-lines.

INTERCOLLEGIATE BASKETBALL

The intercollegiate basketball team is almost picked. By next week everything should be decided. Check the W.A.A. notice board in Stewart Hall to see the Intercollegiate Schedule as it is already posted. Once again you are reminded to watch the signs in the foyer for notices of the "at home" games of our teams.

JOKE

Little Johnny's mother had just presented the family with twins and the house was in a state of excitement. Father beamed with pride as he took Johnny to one side.

"If you'll tell your teacher about it, I'm sure she'll give you a holiday from school."

That afternoon Johnny came home from school radiant. "I don't have to go to school to-morrow", he proudly announced.

"Did you tell the teacher about the twins?" asked his father.

"No, I just told her I had a baby sister, I'm saving the other one for next week!"
